Sindhu Jagannath is an Independent Architectural Consultant, Academician, Conservation Enthusiast, and an Entrepreneur. With professional experience of over 18 years, and teaching experience of 13 years, she is currently working as Associate professor in DSCA apart from running her startup company and architecture studio. She has authored, co-authored several research papers and has presented, published in refereed Journals and conferences both National and International. Her unwavering belief in ecofriendly design constructions and sustainable lifestyle practices sculpted her niche architectural practice which echo reduce, reuse, and recycle mantras. Her passion for entrepreneurship geared her debut into the entrepreneurial world with her startup company, a social enterprise called “Prathama Srsti” in the year 2017 which tries to revive tangible Heritage handicraft products of India.

Her interest in Historical studies and conservation has resulted in many National papers which are published and presented.
